

STEVENS INDICTMENT QUASHED; EMBEZZLEMENT WAS CHARGED.

Defendant Was Trustee of Weak Minded Sister's Estate and Was Alleged to Have Divided With Brother.

CHARLES BOULOS ON TRIAL

For Permitting Gambling on His Main Street Premises—William Jaynes of Uniontown Convicted on Two Serious Charges—Other Notes.

UNIONTOWN, June 12.—The indictment against John W. Stevens, charged with embezzlement by trustee, was quashed by Judge Umbel this morning on motion of the defendant's counsel, W. J. Sturgis. Stevens and his brother, Lee P. Stevens, were made trustees of their sister Mary's estate, valued at about $3,700. Mary Stevens was weak minded. She died in 1903. John Stevens is alleged to have given his brother a check for $1,850, thereby dividing the sister's share of the Stevens estate. When Lee P. Stevens died in 1904 his account and that of Andrew Brown, administrator of the girl, were audited by Attorney L. H. Frasher, who surcharged the estate of Lee P. Stevens with the $1,850 and interest, making the total about $2,400.

Since then John W. Stevens has become insolvent. L. Stevens, a son of Lee P. Stevens, brought action charging embezzlement against him. In the request for quashing the indictment, Attorney Sturgis claims that the indictment is ambiguous, as it charges the defendant with acting in a dual capacity and does not allege in which capacity he was acting when the charge was committed that the indictment fails to set out the motive and character of the indictment; that it does not allege the ownership of the money nor state to whom it should be paid and that it does not charge embezzlement with intent to cheat and defraud. The petition was sustained by the court.

The first case tried before Judge Reppert this morning was that of Charles Boulos, who is charged with running a gambling house and permitting gambling on the premises. It is alleged that last August Boulos rented a room on the third floor of the building he occupied to George Collins, a railroad brakeman, and Max Hanam, both of Uniontown, who fitted the room up as a gambling joint. The two men paid $20 a month for the room. All efforts of officers to get positive evidence against this place failed until last March, when George Hartman, who had been acting as banker, jumped out with $250 and was arrested at Dunbar. Then the story came out that he was only in the deal a month and that they fitted up the room for the purpose of opening a stock exchange. Collins got mixed in this however, and finally admitted that there wasn't any stock exchange about it. Robert Smiley, one of the owners of the building, testified to its interior arrangement. This case was still on when the noon adjournment was taken.

William P. Fletcher of Connellsville was placed on trial before Judge Umbel this morning for carrying concealed weapons and pointing firearms. Special Officer Francis McLaughlin of the West Penn. railways being the prosecutor. While in a disturbance on a car the gun fell from Fletcher's pocket. Fletcher says he started from his boarding house to have the gun fixed up, burglars having paid a visit in the neighborhood of his boarding house the night previous. The shop was closed, so he kept on to one of the parks. He testified that the gun hadn't been loaded since the war, it having belonged to his father. The gun looked the part. Fletcher was convicted.

H. Seidel of Dittmer was found not guilty of selling cigarettes to minors. He will pay two-thirds of the costs and Prosecutor Harshon Brown the other third.

Mike Koryn, Andy Koryn, Andy Slivko Jr., entered pleas of guilty to receiving stolen goods. All are from Dunbar township.

William Jaynes of Uniontown was found guilty of impersonating an officer and a fornicator. Prosecution was brought by Andy Brozar, an Oliver boarding house keeper.

Mike Duretsky was placed on trial this morning to answer a charge of larceny preferred by Butcher C. H. Kline of Uniontown. Kline lost a pocketbook which was found by a negro boy. Duretsky is alleged to have taken the pocketbook from the boy. Kline got the book back but Mike kept the money, hence the charge.

Shortly before noon the case of Emile Morello, charged with assault and battery with intent to murder, was taken up. This is the outcome of a scrap among the Italians about Grindstone some time ago. John Lowellyn has filed his appeal from the award of the viewers in his two suits for damages from Mason town borough as a consequence of a change of grade.

COURT SCANDAL

German Kaiser Banishes Royal Cousin
After Boxing His Ears for Gross Immorality.

Publishers' Press Telegram.
BERLIN, June 12.—The greatest sensation in court circles during recent years has been the degrading by ordering out of Germany, Prince Frederick Henry of Prussia, by the Kaiser, his cousin, because of extreme immorality. When indisputable evidence of the wrong doings of the Prince was presented, the Kaiser summoned the Prince and the charges read to him. The Kaiser personally tore from his relative his orders, the decorations he wore, boxed his ears and ordered him to leave Germany never to return, under penalty of imprisonment.

In tears the Prince departed and is now on his way to Egypt. The scandal is all the greater for the reason that the Prince has always had the reputation of being a pious man and was reported to have been the most moral man of the Imperial family. He is the son of the late Prince Albrecht, Regent of Brunswick, and inherited $7,000,000.

The surveyors will work on the Morgantown end of the proposed line, it is believed.

GAS EXPLOSION VICTIMS' INQUEST.

Deputy Coroner J. E. Sims Will Empanel Jury This Afternoon to Place Responsibility.
Condition of Mrs. Monaghan and Mrs. McGarrity.

Deputy Coroner J. E. Sims will this afternoon empanel a coroner's jury for the purpose of holding an inquest into the death of those unfortunate who were injured in the Witter avenue gas explosion Monday morning. The victims now number four, little Elizabeth Monaghan, four years of age, being the last one to succumb. Of the six persons taken to the hospital on that fatal morning but two are alive, Mrs. Monaghan and Mrs. Thomas McGarrity, while both of them are in a very serious condition. The life of Mrs. Monaghan has been hanging in the balance from the first, while Mrs. McGarrity has not made the progress that was expected.

Mrs. McGarrity is the only witness of the terrible affair who could give any evidence with weight. Mrs. Monaghan has never been in a condition to talk. It was Mrs. McGarrity who is said to have made a statement regarding the match which went out after the gas was turned on. The hard fight that Mrs. Monaghan is making for life has surprised the physicians and others interested in her case. She was burned worse internally than any other of the victims, and but a few hours afterwards gave birth to a child. Her condition remains practically the same as when she was brought to the hospital.

Arrangements for the funerals of the four dead ones have been completed. Services will be held tomorrow in J. L. Slader's morgue, and at 9:30 o'clock high mass will be celebrated at the immaculate Conception church. All will be buried in St. Joseph's cemetery. Members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen are requested to participate.

NO STATE PENSION FOR OLD SOLDIERS.

Governor Stuart Vetoes the Cochran Bill Granting Veterans Reward.

ALL CHARITIES WOULD SUFFER

If the Bill as Passed Should Become a Law—Measure Neither Fair to Veterans or Creditable to State, According to the Governor.

HARRISBURG, June 12.—Governor Stuart yesterday vetoed the bill pensioning soldiers of the Civil War who served in Pennsylvania regiments and are now residents of the State. The chief reasons for vetoing the bill are that it is crude in form and lacks evidence with having been passed without mature deliberation and if it were to become a law it would be necessary to reduce the appropriations to the State's public and private charities.

The Governor states that although it was asserted on the floor of the Senate when the bill was under consideration that it followed the lines of the pension law of Maine, yet a comparison of this measure with the Maine measure omitted many features of the pension law in that State.

"In Maine the fundamental idea seems to be to provide for the necessities of pensioners," he says, "and to grant and continue State aid; only the pecuniary circumstances of the applicant make such aid admissible or necessary. Provision is also made in the pension law of that State for the relief of widows of soldiers during their widowhood."

The bill appropriated $5,825 for the payment of the proposed pensions for the five quarters payable on the first days of April, July and October, 1908, and of January and April, 1909. The schedule of pension allowances was as follows: For soldiers who served less than one year, $5 a month; for those who served more than one year and less than two, $7.50; for men who served more than two years, $10.

The bill originated in the Senate and was passed in that body upon the assurance of its author, Mr. Cochran of Lycoming, that it would require only $1,000,000 a year to pay the proposed pensions. The House raised the appropriation to nearly $6,000,000.

The Governor suggests that the first conclusion reached in an attempt to estimate the probable expenditure authorized by the bill was clearly erroneous and that a careful investigation demonstrated that the amount necessary to carry into effect the provisions of the bill were more than four and one-half the sum originally thought to be necessary.

"Such a situation," he adds, "can result only from inaccurate information in the first instance, and it may well be feared that the amended sum, large as it is, would fall below the actual necessities should an attempt be made to carry out the terms of this act. During the reconsideration of the bill by the Senate, after it had been amended in the House, it was stated that the beneficiaries of its provisions would ask the Executive to reduce the appropriation to $2,000,000.

"After a careful consideration, I am convinced that this sum would not be sufficient to pay the pensions authorized in the bill, which by its provisions specifically designates the exact amounts to be paid to the several classes of pensioners.

"Approval of this bill would pledge the State to pay the specific sums therein set forth and an appropriation adequate to pay only one-third of the amount granted by the express terms of the bill would be neither fair to the beneficiaries nor creditable to the State.

"I yield to no man in my gratitude, admiration and loyalty to those who so

No Trace of Six Annapolis Boys and Five Sailors Supposed to Have Drowned in Hampton Roads.

Publishers' Press Telegram.
WASHINGTON, June 12.—The mystery concerning the loss of the launch of the Minnesota with six midshipmen and five sailors in Hampton Roads yesterday has not yet been solved. There is a strong belief that their boat was run down by a steamer. In fact a report comes from Norfolk that Admiral Lockwood knows the name of the vessel and is preparing to cause the arrest of her captain and crew.

The Navy Department has sent instructions to Admiral Evans to make a most thorough investigation and report frequently by wire on the developments of his action.

In the course of his veto message the Governor points out that "the passage of the bill was not preceded by legislative investigation or suitable inquiry under the authority of the State. Nor is the fixing of this rate predicated on reports or statistics officially obtained which would permit a fair conclusion as to the justice of its operation with reference to the railroads within its purview."

HOLT AND ATKINSON CANDIDATES

For Treasurer and the Board Last Night Could Not Agree on Choice.
Another Meeting Has Been Called for Tomorrow Evening.

It appears as though the School Board has agreed to disagree on all subjects that might come up touching on its organization. At the adjourned meeting held last night in the High School building the Board broke one deadlock and got into another. It was 9:45 when the meeting was finally called to order by President John L. Gans, who was unable to reach town before this time. Dr. Shupe and W. S. Schenck were the only Directors who materialized before 9:45, and they left for other parts to wait for the missing school man. It was a long wait for those who had to be there. Once assembled, however, everybody got down to business. President Gans appointed Dr. H. F. Atkinson temporary Secretary, after Thomas Holt passed the offer by. Balloting for a Secretary commenced immediately. On the first four ballots Dr. M. B. Shupe, W. S. Schenck, Frank O'Connor, Jr., and Thomas Holt voted for O'Connor and President John L. Gans, Dr. H. F. Atkinson, W. D. McGinnis, Dr. W. H. Brown lined up for McGinnis. On the fifth ballot there was a break. In order to prevent a second deadlock Frank O'Connor sacrificed his personal interests and voted for McGinnis.

This brightened matters up a bit. For a while it looked as though the Board might reach an agreement. These fond hopes were soon dispelled. Thomas Holt and Dr. H. F. Atkinson were nominated for Treasurer. The men lined up as they did on the O'Connor-McGinnis ballots. Eleven times Secretary McGinnis called the roll and as many times the same vote was cast, four for Atkinson and four for Holt. Seemingly an agreement impossible, adjournment was taken, the Board having been in session but 15 minutes.

A third effort will be made tomorrow evening to perfect the organization. The Board must organize by tomorrow, that being within the 10 day limit set in which a Board must organize in full. The side supporting O'Connor and Holt maintains that with the election of a President and Secretary the Board is legally complete and can proceed with other business before electing a Treasurer. President Gans ruled in the negative and declared that the full organization must be completed before other business can be taken up.

A bitter fight is on, and even the apparent friendliness that exists between the two factions cannot hide this fact. There is no bad feeling openly displayed by one side toward the other. All appeared in a good humor and it is believed this will prevail, no matter what the outcome may be. Whatever the result, feeling may be between the opposite sides, if other than pleasant it is kept well beneath the surface.

OFF ON VACATION.

BASE BALL

LOST ANOTHER.

Butler Walloped the Ball and Won Nine to One

Connellsville dropped another game at Butler yesterday. The score was nine to one. According to the score as sent out two hits were all Connells ville could garner off Mr. Roche of Butler while the Soup Mine's gathered in 13 bingles off Morrison, a new pitcher. Francis and O'Hara are credited with Connellsville's hits, while in the summary Tiffany is also given credit for a two bagger. Evidently there is something wrong with the score as published in the Pittsburgh morning papers. All agree however that Connellsville lost.

From the score Connellsville played a fair fielding game. Butler winning through hard hitting. The same teams play again today and tomorrow. Connellsville plays Greensburg at home. Fairmont defeated Scottsdale yesterday six to four. Clarksburg won from Cumberland three to one. Desler having all three of Clarksburg's hits and Greensburg defeated Beaver Falls three to one.

Connellsville has dropped to fifth place, leading the second division.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Brief Diamond Paragraphs of Interest Local and Otherwise

McKeesport is the rowdy town to the P. O. M. It is said. The crowds get mean down that way sometimes and give the ump a hard row to hoe.

They have come to "loving to stupid" up in Uniontown when explaining the reason the Champs lost. We have had to resort to the same terms down here on several occasions, but never expected the immortal Champs would be victims of such calumny.

Marty Hogan is a winner. He picked the Youngstown and Zanesville nines, which lead the O. & P. and P. O. M. races respectively.

Uniontown's team is too large and some of the players will have to go. Kellin made a big hit with the fans there and sentiment is divided over the question of Davis succeeding him at first.

Although erratic at times Birmingham is the fastest fielding third sacker in the West Penn. Even Gates of Fairmont hasn't anything on Birmy except with the stick.

Possibly the greatest surprise of the year is the showing made by Washington. The Senators are giving the best of the P. O. M. teams a merry chase.

That Zanesville team is fast. There aren't many in the Tri-State that can out-run it. The Stubs are also strong like Lee Washington and Uniontown.

Seivage of Uniontown is surprising them this year with his hitting. Last season he batted about 30 cents worth.

Eddie Nugent of the Greensburg team says he hasn't joined Connellsville. Eddie ought to know. We got it straight enough that he was to come but if such is not the case we regret to have given Nugent a surprise.

We'll be glad to see Eddie play, though when Greensburg is here this week even if he is on the other side. Greensburg has strengthened its team lately by the acquisition of Charley Nugent an outfielder. Pitcher Nelson of Jannette and Judy Macgregor of Indiana State Normal.

Francis continues to bang the ball at a great rate. Chip is becoming a consistent hitter.

Tiffany had an error in Monday's game. That is something unusual Birmingham had two.

Inter-machine strife threatens to disrupt the Uniontown team. If the Champs expect to be two-time winners they can't afford to hand out any games just for fun. They might need 'em.

It is reported that Tarleton Charles, the big first baseman who was called home by the illness of his sister has been injured in the State League. That will give Barney Wolfe a chance to get before the National Commission if true.

Keenworthy formerly with Beaver Falls is having both ups and downs at East Liverpool. He is hitting well however.

McKeesport will not get Roubidoux formerly with Uniontown. Roubidoux will be retained by Wheeling.

Pitcher Yates of Niagara University has joined his class. Liverpool contract. The Pots are having hard luck.

ENFORCING LAW

Inspector Neilson of Irwin After Violators of the Mine Act

Mine Inspector W. J. Neilson of the Irwin district has inaugurated a general campaign against foreign violators of the mining laws. In the mines of the Penn. Gas Coal Company in the vicinity of Irwin several foreigners have been fined and prosecuted recently. A warrant was issued yesterday for James Arby, who had several times passed the day or limit with an open lamp in defiance of the mine laws and orders.

When Constable Leightner went after him last evening however he had gone. He left $100 at the mines as well as his tools and clothes. Other inquisitions will be made in a determined effort to stop the reckless prospect.

BREWERIES AT WAR.

Westmoreland County the Storm Center

GRIFTSBURG, June 12.—Westmoreland county is the storm center of a fierce conflict among Western Pennsylvania brewers.

At the last session of the license court, a new rule was established restricting the delivery of beer in the mining towns to Wednesday and Saturday.

When the rule became effective the Pittsburgh Independent and Crescent brewing companies raised the price from $1 to $1.25 for an eight barrel The Cambria Brewing Company of Johnstown then invaded the local field selling at the old rate.

Defectives were employed by the syndicate. All Cambria agents were arrested on charges of breaching the court's rules. The agents were held for court after a hearing before Justice of the Peace B. W. Caldwell of Jeannette.

Match Race Postponed. The track of the Greensburg Driving Club was too heavy yesterday for the much heralded race between Margaret C. and Black Beauty two Pittsburgh trotters.

A GREAT HELP.

To Those Who Desire to Save Money.

One of the greatest helps in saving money ever devised is the Little Home Safe which the First National Bank of Connellsville furnishes free to depositors in its Savings Department. It enables the saving man, woman or child to have a little bank in the home, always open for deposits, in which small sums that one would not care to take to the bank may be placed from time to time, but the money can only be removed at the bank, where the key is kept. Usually, once or twice a month the little safe is taken to the bank, opened, the money counted in the presence of the depositor and the contents placed to his or her credit, at a 4 per cent. interest. It's a good way to save money and we advise our readers to try it.

THE VETOED PENSION BILL

Governor Stuart has found it necessary to veto the pension bill. His action will no doubt be disappointing to the old soldiers, all because the bill was full of mistakes and the wisdom and justice of his action.

The pension bill was a Democratic political trick to embarrass the Republican party of Pennsylvania. It does not require an abnormal perspicacity to see through the plot. Gift-bearing Greeks were looked upon with suspicion ages ago. Democratic pension projects were never before known in American politics. The old soldier had to depend upon Republican sympathy and support. He ought to know who his friends are. He has been given ample evidence of the regard with which he is held by the political parties of the State and Nation.

The State pension bill was conceived by Democrats for the purpose of embarrassing the Republican administration and alienating the soldier vote. Governor Stuart has met the issue as a veteran would have met it, honestly, conscientiously, courageously. He supplied the moral courage that the Legislature lacked when they passed an appropriation bill knowing that the State was unable to meet it.

Governor Stuart is not opposed to taking care of the old soldier who needs assistance. He recognizes the debt of gratitude the State owes, and is not only willing but anxious to repay it. He would have the State assist all indigent veterans to the full extent of their needs, and not pay rich and poor alike a few paltry dollars as the price of their glorious services. The price is too cheap, the action too degrading. Patriotism that is measured in dollars is poor indeed.

It is a money-mad and avaricious age, to be sure; and some of the veterans think they are entitled to their share of the country's millions, because of their past services. So they are, if they need them. If the Federal Government is not generous enough to keep the unfortunate veteran in comfort, it is the duty of the State to take care of its own in a proper manner. We are liberal in caring for all our unfortunates. We would not be backward about seeing after the comforts of the old soldier.

Governor Stuart has pointed the way to a rational pension system which the revenues of the State will doubtless justify, and we have no doubt such a measure will receive the favorable consideration of the next Legislature, when and where the Democrats will probably found arrayed against it.

SALOONS FOR THE COKE WORKS.

President Frederick C. Kelghley of the Western Pennsylvania Mining Institute presents a proposition looking toward the reasonable regulation of the liquor traffic at the coke plants of the Connellsville region and other like industrial establishments in the State with a view to materially reduce or wholly avoid the evils of drunkenness that periodically put the manufacturer out of business.

There is a moral as well as a material side to the question, but President Kelghley presents the matter chiefly as a business proposition. The moral side is quite incidental, but also quite inevitable. The business side seeks no advantage for itself that it does not fully share with the moral end of the combination. The employer seeks no gain that he does not share with his employee. It is not proposed to make any profit on the sale of liquor, but permit its indulgence in moderation and at least possible cost in pocket and in health.

The suggestion is worthy of the various consideration of intelligent lawmakers when another session rolls around and intelligent and earnest men predominate at Harrisburg.

FAYETTE MURDER CASES.

Fayette county has four murder cases on trial at this term of criminal court, but in none of them are the primary elements of premeditation such as entered into the two Somerset county cases recently tried in a manner amounting almost to a travesty of justice.

The Fayette county cases include the killing of a policeman by an ex-policeman, the shooting by a policeman of a fleeing prisoner arrested for a petty offense, and the fatal wounding with a stone of one man by another in a quarrel over a mule.

In the first case, a Probation Grand Juror brought in a special verdict to the effect that the Commonwealth was guilty because its laws authorizing the sale of intoxicants thereby permit the lawbreaker to become crazy drunk and consequently an irresponsible agent of the State's evil license. This is a new legal proposition, but it will hardly be considered seriously.

A more interesting legal point will arise in the case of the policeman who took a human life in the name of the law. How far he was justified in shooting, even without intent to kill, will be a question which must come under consideration. Some criminals may be taken alive or dead, by officers, and even the citizen has a lawful right to defend his person and his home against attack by violent men threatening him bodily injury or by intruding burglars seeking his property, but how far the officer of the law may go in using his gun as a "persuader" has not apparently been fully determined. The line is dimly marked out. It should be more plainly and positively established.

The Fayette cases involve little or no circumstantial evidence and the main facts in them will be clearly established. There will be no misadventures of justice, but the courts will have to establish some new principles of law or elaborate some old ones not generally understood.

FINE DISCRIMINATION OF AN IDEAL CRANK.

An ideal crank is what Editor Berry of the Democratic Uniontown Gazette calls Editor Atkins of the Probation Tribune, all because the latter says that the Republicans bribed the Democrats at the recent primary.

If the Republicans were bad, the Democrats were worse. Editor Atkins is fair in his denunciations. He does not discriminate between the Republican and the Democratic kettle, even if one is black at the bottom while the other is unblushingly ebony-hued all over.

Harry Orchard, the self-confessed hired assassin, professes to have reported and to have received the consultations of religion. It is to be hoped that his sins will be forgiven him by the Higher Power, but here on earth he should be made atone. The law does not accept repentance as an atonement for all manner of crime.

The natural gas explosion grows in horror.

Coke prices are stronger and coke production greater than ever. The iron and steel trade has full faith in the coming year's continued prosperity in spite of the unseasonable weather and the threatened drought crops. Let us hope the pig-iron barometer of trade is not out of order.

Coke prices are "shady."

THE WEATHER.

Western Pennsylvania — Thundershowers Wednesday and in south portion; Thursday fresh, variable winds.

Some Old Stories

About the goods we have told you about before, but about goods that are the kind that will stand telling about as often as we have the opportunity. We are anxious to have those of you who do not know this store as your own home store, to first ask your neighbor about the kind of goods we have here and then to pay this store a visit and then judge for yourself as to price and quality.

Stinson Carpets.

We want to advertise those so often that every woman who has a carpet want will know about them. In all probability there are more Stinson Carpets in use in this vicinity than all other makes put together. Sounds like a pretty large statement does it not? But ask some of your neighbors. We have been selling this make of carpet ever since this has been a carpet store, and that's a good many years, almost thirty now. Quality is just as good now as it was then and this store stands ready to guarantee anything reasonable about this make of carpet. Velvet $1.25 the yard, and Tapestry $1.10 the yard. These prices mean made, laid and lined.

Room Size Rugs.

Not as many to choose from now as we had earlier in the season. Still most any kind of a want can be supplied from this stock. Stinson Tapestry Rugs at $22.00, Body Brussels Rugs at $27.00, $27.00 and $30.00. Electric Rugs at $27.00 and $30.00. All patterns that you will not find shown elsewhere. If these rugs were not extra values for the money we would not go to the trouble and expense of calling your attention to them here.

Vudor Shades.

Don't forget your porch shades. Summer will come sometime and you'll want porch shades, and if you want the good kind you want the Vudor Shades. Come in 4, 6 and 10 foot widths, all 7 foot 3 inches long and priced at $2.00, $2.75, $3.50 and $4.00. If you want a shade that will last for years and years you want a Vudor Shade.

Children's White and Colored Dresses.

Priced from 50 cents up as high as $5.00 and $6.00. Dresses made as you would have them made. Neatly trimmed with embroidery and lace and made of good material. Investigate these prices and find just how much time you are wasting to buy the material and make them yourself or how much money you are wasting to buy the material and pay some one else to make them. Be your own judge.

Shirt Waist Suits.

Starting from $4.00 and from that on up to $25.00, and we call special attention to the collection of summer dresses for Misses and Women. It is the best collection we ever had to show. Better made, better material and nicer and better trimmed. Suits that you would be satisfied to put on and wear on any occasion.

Onyx Hosiery.

SCOTSDALE TEACHERS

The Corps Elected for the Coming Year at a Long Session.

HIGH SCHOOL STAFF INCLUDED.

Three Nominated for Principal and C. R. Shultz Wins Out After Several Ballots—Some Increases in Salary Granted.

SCOTSDALE, June 12.—The Scotland Board of Education has elected teachers for the coming year and in the meeting, which lasted until after midnight, there was some voting before the Board arrived at a conclusion in filling the places of J. R. Eisenhour and F. S. Shields, principal and teacher in the High School. There was opposition developed by some of the patrons toward C. R. Shultz, who was after the place vacated by Prof. Eisenhour. There were also two other nominations for the place, J. M. Higber, a Washington & Jefferson graduate, who had taught some years in Rostraver township, and the last year in Irwin, and N. E. Henry, a graduate of the Williamsport High School and Bucknell University. On the first ballot Mr. Shultz received the votes of J. L. Reynolds, J. M. Shaffer, J. D. Hill, A. C. Overholt and President Robert Skemp, while Mr. Higberberger was supported by Treasurer J. O. Landenberger, D. G. L. Markle, Hon. Berkey H. Boyd and Joseph Loucks, while Hon. E. P. Wodell and Dr. O. I. Hess, the Secretary, voted for Mr. Henry. Three ballots in the same order followed, and on the fifth ballot Mr. Loucks, Dr. Wodell and Dr. Hess voted for Prof. Shultz. The other gentlemen were then elected to the places of teachers in the High School. They will receive $35 per month, while Prof. Shultz will get $100. C. E. Stevens of Greensburg was re-elected music teacher, with an increase of $5.00 per month, or $40 per month. He teaches two hours each week. Miss Emily J. Thorne was elected teacher of domestic science. This is her second year and she was also granted an increase of $5.00 per month, her salary being now $60. Superintendent J. J. Quinn has taken a position as Superintendent of the city of New Castle. No one was elected to take his place, although several applications are under consideration. The following were elected:

The movement to secure a band stand and park benches in Loucks park for concerts by the G. A. R. Band is coming along in the shape, and it is probable that work will be commenced on the stand this week. Ambrose Blah, who is securing subscriptions for the project, has already got $225 for it. ## ROADS IN COMBINE.

Government Will Proceed Against Alleged Anthracite Coal Monopoly.

MANY ROADS MUST ANSWER

Petition Protests Against What Is Said to Be Conspiracy in Restraint of Trade—Harriman Deal Receives Attention.

Washington, June 12.—The following statement has been made public at the department of justice with regard to government action against coal roads operated in alleged restraint of trade:

"The petition to be filed by the government in the United States circuit court at Philadelphia is aimed at the anthracite coal monopoly. The Reading company, a holding corporation; the Philadelphia & Reading Railway company, the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company, the Central Railroad of New Jersey, the Erie Railroad company, and the New York, Susquehanna & Western Railroad company, comprising all the roads that tap the anthracite regions save the Pennsylvania, the New York, Ontario & Western and the Delaware & Hudson (which last does not extend to tidewater), are made defendants, together with their subsidiary coal mining companies. As yet no evidence of sufficient probative force to connect the three last named railroads with the alleged unlawful combination and monopoly has been found. Should such evidence be forthcoming in the progress of the trial they may, and of course will, be joined with the other defendants.

Petition Charges Conspiracy.
"In brief the petition recites that the defendant railroads control all the means of transportation between the anthracite mines and tidewater except the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad and the New York, Ontario & Western railway, which reach only a limited number of collieries; that they transport annually about 73 per cent of the total anthracite tonnage; that in their own name or through coal companies whose capital stock they own, they control about 90 per cent of all the anthracite deposits and produce about 75 per cent of the annual supply; that independent operators, although owning probably little more than five per cent of the anthracite deposits, yet produce about 20 per cent of the annual supply which would be sold in competition with the output of the defendants were it not for the restraints imposed by the latter.

"The petition then charges that the defendants have conspired to silence competition among themselves in the transportation and sale of coal and to prevent the sale of the independent output in competition with their own, thereby establishing a monopoly. "The petition prays generally that the defendants be enjoined from further carrying out their combination, and specifically that the above described contracts be canceled and that the mergers between the Erie Railroad company and the New York, Susquehanna & Western Railroad company and their coal companies, and between the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad company and the Central Railroad of New Jersey and their coal companies be dissolved."

Will Question Harriman.
Washington, June 12.—Developments since the conference at the White House last Friday evening in which the President, Attorney General Bonaparte, Secretaries Root, Taft, Cortelyou and Gardner, and Interstate Commerce Commissioners Knapp and Lane and United States Attorney Kellogg of St. Paul participated, make it probable that the government will begin proceedings under the anti-trust act against E. H. Harriman and his associates for violations of the law in connection with the so-called Chicago & Alton railroad deal, the Union and Southern Pacific transactions, and perhaps in connection with the Southern Pacific and the San Pedro traffic agreement.

The contemplated prosecution of the bituminous coal carrying roads, however, will likely await the results of the action of the courts in the cases to be brought against the Harriman roads. It is explained that there are some important questions that are common to both cases, and therefore, it is asserted, the suits against the bituminous coal roads will not be brought until the courts have rendered judgment in the Harriman cases.

An action will almost certainly be begun to compel Mr. Harriman to answer certain questions deemed important, which he declined to answer at the hearing of the commission held in New York city and in the west some months ago.

Schmitz Defense Opened.
San Francisco, June 12.—The attorneys for Mayor Schmitz opened the defense by calling to the stand M. P. Scott, former business agent of the Cooke and Walters' union. Scott testified that he had resigned "put up a job" to have the license of Tortella's restaurant revoked because the proprietor had refused to employ his employees. Under cross-examination by Attorney Henry, Scott denied that he had told Reagan (as Reagan himself testified) that the French restaurant keepers had raised "a sack" of $28,000 to buy protection of their licenses.

Monsieur Beaucaire

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "The Gentleman From Indiana" and "The Conquest of Canaan."

Copyright, 1900, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

"Turn to me," he said.
The fragrance of the fields came to them, and from the distance the faint, clear note of a hunting horn.
"Turn to me."
The lovely head was bent very low. Her little gloved hand lay upon the narrow window ledge. He laid his own gently upon it. The two hands were shaking like twin leaves in the breeze. There was not drawn away. After a pause, neither knew how long, he felt the warm fingers turn and clasp themselves tremulously about his own. At last she looked up bravely and met his eyes. The horn was wound again—nearer.

"All the cold was gone from the snows—long ago," she said.
"My beautiful!" he whispered. It was all he could say. "My beautiful!" But she clutched his arm, startled.
"Ware the road!" A wild halloo sounded at—d. The horn wound loudly. "Ware the road!" There sprang up out of the night a flying thunder of hoof beats. The gentlemen riding idly in front of the coach scattered to the hedge sides, and, with drawn swords flashing in the moon, a party of horsemen charged down the highway, their cries blasting the night.

"Barber! Kill the barber!" they screamed. "Barber! Kill the barber!"
Beaucaire had but time to draw his sword when they were upon him.

"A moi!" his voice rang out clearly as he rose in his stirrups. "A moi, Francois, Louis, Berquin! A moi, Francois!"
The cavaliers came straight at him. He parried the thrust of the first, but the shock of collision hurled his horse against the side of the coach.

"Sacred swine!" he cried bitterly. "To endanger a lady, to make this brawl in a lady's presence! Drive on!" he shouted.
"No!" cried Lady Mary.

The Frenchman's assailants were masked, but they were not highwaymen. "Barber! Barber!" they shouted hoarsely and closed in on him in a circle.

"See how he uses his steel!" laughed M. Beaucaire, as his point passed through a tawdry waistcoat. For a moment he cut through the ring and cleared a space about him, and Lady Mary saw his face shining in the moonlight. "Canaille!" he hissed as his horse sank beneath him, and, though guarding his head from the rain of blows from above, he managed to drag headlong from his saddle the man who had hamstrung the poor brute. The fellow came suddenly to the ground and lay there.

"Is it not a compliment," said a heavy voice, "to bring six large men to subdue monsieur?"

"Oh, you are there, my friend! In the rear—a little in the rear, I think. Ha, ha!"

The Frenchman's play with his weapon was a revelation of skill, the more extraordinary as he held in his hand only a light dress sword. But the ring closed about him, and his keen defense could not avail him for more than a few moments. Lady Mary's outriders, the galleys of her escort, rode up close to the coach and encircled it, not interfering.

"Sir Hugh Guilford!" cried Lady Mary wildly, "if you will not help him, give me your sword!" She would have leaped to the ground, but Sir Hugh held the door.

"Sit quiet, madam," he said to her. Then, to the man on the box, "Drive on."

"If he does, I'll kill him!" she said fiercely. "Ah, what cowards! Will you see the duke murdered?"

"The duke!" laughed Guilford. "They will not kill him, unless—bo easy, dear madam, 'twill be explained. God's life!" he muttered to Molyneux, "twere time the varlet had his lashing! D'ye hear her?"

"Barber or no barber," answered Molyneux, "I wish I had warned him. He fights as few gentlemen could. Ah—ah! Look at that! 'Tha shame!"

On foot, his hat gone, his white coat sadly rent and gashed, flocked, too, with red, M. Beaucaire, wary, alert, brilliant, seemed to transform himself into a dozen fencing masters, and, though his skill appeared to lie in dexterity and quickness, his play being continually with the point, sheer strength failed to beat him down. The young man was laughing like a child.

"Believe me," said Molyneux, "he's no barber! No, and never was!"

For a moment there was even a chance that M. Beaucaire might have the best of it. Two of his adversaries were prostrate, more than one were groaning, and the indomitable Frenchman had actually almost beat off the ruffians when, by a trick, he was overcome. One of them, dismounting, ran in suddenly from behind and seized his blade in a thick leather gauntlet. Before Beaucaire could disengage the weapon two others throw themselves from their horses and hurled him to the earth. "A moi! A moi, Francois!" he cried as he went down, his sword in fragments, but his voice unbroken and clear.

"Shame!" muttered one or two of the gentlemen about the coach. "Twas dastardly to take him so," said Molyneux. "Whatever his deservings, I'm nigh of a mind to offer him a rescue in the duke's face."

"Truss him up, lads," said the heavy voice. "Clear the way in front of the coach. There sit those whom we avenge upon a presumptuous lackey. Now, Whiffen, you have a fair audience, lay on and baste him."

Two men began to drag M. Beaucaire toward a great oak by the roadside. Another took from his saddle a heavy whip with three thongs.

"A moi, Francois!"
There was borne on the breeze an answer—"Monsieur! Monsieur!" The cry grew louder suddenly. The clatter of hoofs urged to an anguish of speed sounded on the night. M. Beaucaire's servants had lagged sorely behind, but they made up for it now. Almost before the noise of their own steeds they came riding down the moonlit aisle between the mist. Chosen men, these servants of Beaucaire, and like a thunderbolt they fell upon the astounded cavaliers.

"Chateaurien! Chateaurien!" they shouted, and snote so swiftly that, through lack of time, they showed no proper judgment, discriminating nothing between noncombatants and their master's foes. They charged first into the group about M. Beaucaire and broke and routed it utterly. Two of them leaped to the young man's side while the other four, swerving, scarce losing the momentum of their on-set, bore on upon the gentlemen near the coach, who went down beneath the fierceness of the onslaught, cursing manfully.

"Our just deserts," said Mr. Molyneux, his mouth full of dust and philosophy.

Sir Hugh Guilford's horse fell with him, being literally ridden over, and the baronet's leg was pinned under the saddle. In less than ten minutes from the first attack on M. Beaucaire the attacking party had fled in disorder, and the patrician noncombatants, choking with expletives, commenced with wrath, were prisoners, disarmed by the Frenchman's lackeys.

Guilford's discomfiture had freed the doors of the coach. So it was that when M. Beaucaire, struggling to rise, assisted by his servants, threw out one hand to balance himself, he found it seized between two small, cold palms, and he looked into two warm, dilating eyes that were doubly beautiful because of the fright and rage that found room in them too.

M. de Duc Chateaurien sprang to his feet without the aid of his lackeys and bowed low before Lady Mary.

"I make ten thousand apology to be the cause of a such misce in your presence," he said, and then, turning to Francois, he spoke in French: "Ah, thou scoundrel! A little, and it had been too late."

Francois knelt in the dust before him. "Pardon!" he said. "Monsieur commanded us to follow far in the rear, to remain unobserved. The wind malignantly blew against monsieur's voice."

"See what it might have cost, my children," said his master, pointing to the ropes with which they would have bound him and to the whip lying beside them. A shudder passed over the luckless frame. The utter horror in his face echoed in the eyes of his fellows.

"Oh, monsieur!" Francois sprang back and tossed his arms to heaven.

"But it did not happen," said M. Beaucaire.

"It could not!" exclaimed Francois.

"No. And you did very well, my children"—the young man smiled benevolently—"very well. And now," he continued, turning to Lady Mary and speaking in English, "let me be asking of our gallants yonder what make them to be in cabal with highwaymen. One should come to a polite understanding with them, you think? Not so?"

He bowed, offering his hand to conduct her to the coach, where Molyneux and his companions, having drawn Sir Hugh from under his horse, were engaged in reviving and reassuring Lady Rellerton, who had fainted. But Lady Mary stayed Beaucaire with a gesture, and the two stood where they were.

"Monsieur!" she said, with a note of raillery in her voice, but raillery so tender that he started with happiness. His movement brought him a hot spasm of pain, and he clasped his hand to a red stain on his waistcoat.

"You are hurt!"

"It is nothing," smiled M. Beaucaire. Then, that she might not see the stain spreading, he held his handkerchief over the spot. "I am a little—but just a trifling—bruise," he said.

"You shall ride in the coach," she whispered. "Will you be pleased, M. de Chateaurien?"

"Ah, my beautiful!" She seemed to wave before him like a shining mist. "I wish that ride might last for—always! Can you say that, mademoiselle?"

"Monsieur!" she cried in a passion of admiration. "I would what you would have been, should be. What do you not deserve? You are the bravest man in the world!"

DON'T DIE AT 45.

Cure the indigestion which is so liable to lead to Apoplexy.

People who suffer with indigestion, acidity, palpitation, flatulence, in the mouth, diarrhoea, distress after eating, and many of the other distressing results of indigestion, are in serious danger. Their digestive organs cannot care for the food properly and hence the roots of the blood vessels in the brain get little nourishment, become brittle, and finally yield to the fierce blood pressure and one is then said to have a "stroke," he paralyzed, or die from apoplexy.

In all diseases of digestion and nutrition the prescription called Molyneux's has proven itself of great value. It is rolled upon today as a certainty to relieve the worst troubles of indigestion and make a complete cure. That Molyneux will cure the worst forms of stomach trouble, cancer, constipation, and give quick relief in indigestion, is proven by the guarantee A. Clarke gives with every 50-cent box to return the money unless Molyneux's cures. A guarantee like this must inspire confidence.

"The Blood Is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also affected, the mind and judgement are clouded, and many an evil deed or impure thought is directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Pure, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or scurf, hemorrhoids and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scurvy, swellings, enlarged glands, open sores, ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood purifying constitutional treatment. If your druggist doesn't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing five-cent coin in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 661 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to try any other medicine of such proven efficacy as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pills regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS.

Do Not Endanger Life When a Connellsville Citizen Shows You the Cure.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, rheumatism, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, hiccups, who allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them? Doan's Kidney Pills—the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney disease, cure yourself now. Indigestion, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Connellsville testimony:
